

I support RM-10352 as written to provide a definite "boundary" between narrow and wide band communications.